Sunday 25th January 2026
Third Sunday After Epiphany

Sentence of the Day

'Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing every disease and every sickness among the people.'

Matthew 4.23

Collect

Loving God,
the light of the minds that know you,
the life of the souls that love you,
and the strength of the hearts that serve you:
help us so to know you that we may truly love you, and so to love you that we may faithfully serve you, whose service is perfect freedom;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayer of the Week

O God, the strength of all those who put their trust in you:
mercifully accept our prayer, and because through the weakness of our mortal nature we can do nothing good without you, grant us the help of your grace, that in keeping you commandments we may please you both in will and deed;
through Jesus Christ our
Lord. Amen

Today's Readings

1st Reading Isaiah 9.1-4

¹ But there will be no gloom for those who were in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he will make glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

² The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness—on them light has shined.

³ You have multiplied the nation, you have increased its joy;
they rejoice before you as with joy at the harvest, as people exult when dividing plunder.

⁴ For the yoke of their burden, and the bar across their shoulders, the rod of their oppressor, you have broken as on the day of Midian.

2nd Reading 1 Corinthians 1.10-18

¹⁰ Now I appeal to you, brothers and sisters, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you should be in agreement and that there should be no divisions among you, but that you should be united in the same mind and the same purpose. ¹¹ For it has been reported to me by Chloe's people that there are quarrels among you, my brothers and sisters. ¹² What I mean is that each of you says, 'I belong to Paul', or 'I belong to Apollos', or 'I belong to Cephas', or 'I belong to Christ.' ¹³ Has Christ been divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? ¹⁴ I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, ¹⁵ so that no one can say that you were baptized in my name. ¹⁶ (I did baptize also the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.) ¹⁷ For Christ did not send me to baptize but to proclaim the gospel, and not with eloquent wisdom, so that the cross of Christ might not be emptied of its power. ¹⁸ For the message about the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

Gospel Reading Matthew 4.12-25

¹² Now when Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew to Galilee.

¹³ He left Nazareth and made his home in Capernaum by the lake, in the territory of Zebulun and Naphtali, ¹⁴ so that what had been spoken through the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

¹⁵ 'Land of Zebulun, land of Naphtali, on the road by the sea, across the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—

¹⁶ the people who sat in darkness have seen a great light, and for those who sat in the region and shadow of death
light has dawned.'

¹⁷ From that time Jesus began to proclaim, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near.'

¹⁸ As he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the lake—for they were fishermen.

¹⁹ And he said to them, 'Follow me, and I will make you fish for people.'

²⁰ Immediately they left their nets and followed him.

²¹ As he went from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them.

²² Immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed him.

²³ Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing every disease and every sickness among the people.

²⁴ So his fame spread throughout all Syria, and they brought to him all the sick, those who were afflicted with various diseases and pains, demoniacs, epileptics, and paralytics, and he cured them.

²⁵ And great crowds followed him from Galilee, the Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and from beyond the Jordan.

The Psalm for today is Psalm 27, Verses 1-10.

- ¹ The Lord is my light and my salvation;
whom then shall I fear?: the Lord is the stronghold of my life;
of whom shall I be afraid?
- ² When the wicked, even my enemies and my foes,
come upon me to devour me:
they shall stumble and fall.
- ³ If an army encamp against me, my heart shall not be afraid:
and if war should rise against me, yet will I trust.
- ⁴ One thing I have asked from the Lord, which I will require:
that I may dwell in the house of the Lord
all the days of my life, ⁵ To see the fair beauty of the Lord:
- and to seek his will in his temple.
⁶ For he will hide me under his shelter in the day of trouble:
and conceal me in the shadow of his tent,
and set me high upon a rock.
- ⁷ And now he will lift up my head:
above my enemies round about me.
- ⁸ And I will offer sacrifices in his sanctuary with exultation:
I will sing, I will sing praises to the Lord.
- ⁹ O Lord, hear my voice when I cry:
have mercy upon me and answer me.
- ¹⁰ My heart has said of you, 'Seek his face':
your face, Lord, I will seek.

"Sung version of The Lord's Prayer"

Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us today our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against

Hello Dear Friends

I pray you are all well and enjoying Summer.
On this third Sunday after Epiphany, we hear the call to follow!

We pray collectively to know Jesus so that we may serve - so in keeping with our diocesan vision and strategy for this year. Isaiah tells us of the Son to be born and the nature of His kingdom, the psalmist talks of his faith and desire towards God; Paul continues from last week and exhorts the Corinthians to brotherly love and gives reproof to their divisions and Matthew tells us of the beginning of Christ's ministry in Galilee.

In this passage Matthew means us to understand Jesus as proclaiming that he is the very one who spoke the Law to us in the darkness of Mount Sinai. And that he continues to speak to us as the author of the Law, but in a way radically different from that of the current purveyors of the Law, the Priests, the Scribes and the Pharisees.
Therefore, we should dare, I think, to extend that to our own day. So often today we hear the Law of God, God's Good News, proclaimed harshly, judgmentally, in a condemnatory manner, critical of natural human tendencies. In proclaiming how he means his Law to come across, Jesus emphasises that he welcomes all, longs to revive all, and will lift the burden of condemnation from the shoulders of all who come to him.

And wonderfully, with no hesitation or questions, the Disciples respond by following him. Matthew wants us to read that Jesus suddenly appears and calls them and that with no previous knowledge of him, they leave their boats and everything else and go off with him – just as their ancestor Abraham followed God into the unknown, centuries before.

Now, this was probably not the case. Peter and Andrew, and probably John also, had spent time with Jesus down south, sometime before. But Matthew skips over that – he probably realised that his hearers knew about it, just as we do, but he is painting a picture of the rising of God's presence, he wants us to feel the full splendour of Jesus' appearance before them there on the beach: it is suddenly absolutely clear, obvious and compelling:

what they have been waiting for in confusion, misery and danger, stands before them to lead them out of it. It is a call so powerful and absolute, that it demands a radical break from their past lives – they leave everything – even their personal relationships are redefined.

But that's not all. He gives them a new occupation to replace their old one. From now on they are to follow him and do what he is doing – what he has just done for them. They are to draw people into the Kingdom of God, into a zone of the Law where God will write it in their hearts and minds, and it will be relief, restoration, and light.

In the course of his story Matthew carefully reports Jesus' teaching about how this is done – firstly it is done together as a group.
From here on the story isn't about Jesus alone but about all of them together, and it will be that way to the end, with one painful period of absence from the Gethsemane Prayer until the Resurrection three days after.
Together, they are what we have come to call the Church, the presence of God in the world.

Today, Jesus says to us: just as he said to his disciples back then: "Let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven". Let people see the goodness of God in you, the understanding, the gentleness, the faithfulness, the warmth and forgiveness.
What the fishermen saw when Jesus appears so suddenly and called them to follow – this is what they were called to display, and it is what we are called to display as well.

It's not a call to argue about doctrine, to frighten people with hell, or impress them with rhetoric, much less works of wonder. It's simply to let them see the love of God in us:
as the disciples saw it in Jesus by the lake.
But it will only be seen in us if we bond together in forgiveness and respect. This is the true essence of discipleship, for it is what everyone is made for, what everyone of good will longs for. It is this that draws people to Christ.

CONTEMPLATIVE PRAYER.

A contemplative prayer service is held in the Lady Chapel every Tuesday of the month at 11am. The format is flexible, but follows The Rhythm of Life: Celtic Daily Prayer by David Adam and includes a time of silent prayer, up to 20 minutes for regulars. The service is chosen as a result of discussion about matters on the hearts of those attending, and the contemplation based on a mantra taken from the psalm. The service takes less than an hour usually, and it is followed for those who wish to stay, by the regular Tuesday 12.30 Eucharist. The books are supplied, and contemplative time can be modified for those new to this form of prayer. You are most welcome to come and try a new experience! Cherry O'Donnell.
